

LaDIA Faculty Fellowship

Building research connections with coastal communities

Program Highlights:

- Work with communication, education and outreach specialists
- Explore different coastal habitats
- Hear about coastal challenges from residents and stakeholders
- Build collaborative, interdisciplinary research relationships
- Connect with research funding organizations
- All lodging, meals and activities provided at no cost to participants

Program Dates:

Fellowship consists of two separate retreats. Faculty can attend one or both. Activities will be different in each session, and will not build on previous content. Each retreat is two full days.

December 17-18, 2024 - South Central Louisiana

January 8-9, 2025 - Southwestern Louisiana

Program Eligibility:

For the first time, this Faculty Fellowship is open to ALL faculty at Louisiana colleges and universities. Application instructions are available on the website. The deadline to apply is November 18, 2024.
